Tompkins Rifle Slings

These excellent match rifle slings were developed by Mid and Nancy Tompkins for use in High Power, Long Range and Smallbore shooting. The 1 1/4" width was chosen because it provides excellent stability but does not transfer pulse effects like wider slings sometimes do. Both slings are designed to work without keepers, but can be used with a 1 1/4" keeper if desired. These slings can be used with hooks or push button detachable sling swivels and attach to the rifle on the front swivel only - they are not for Service Rifle competition. The leather sling is 11 oz. full grain burgundy latigo leather which measures almost 0.200" thick. Biothane® is extremely strong, supple and comfortable, and it is completely weather resistant.

Sinclair Service Rifle Sling

We like the Biothane® material that we use in our match slings so much that we had a service rifle sling made of the same material. Leather cracks and stretches, but the Biothane material is almost indestructible regardless of the weather or conditions. Biothane is made by fusing a polyester web inside a urethane casing which makes an extremely strong sling. This material is extremely comfortable in any shooting position and wraps around the arm perfectly. This sling is approved for Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) matches. It includes two Biothane keepers that do not move when put in place. Hooks are made of steel and are riveted on with 3 rivets. The sling measures 54", which will accommodate almost all shooters. Available in black only. This is also an excellent sling for tactical shooters because the material makes the sling extremely quiet.

Turner slings are used worldwide in service rifle competitions and are recognized as one of the best among shooters. All Turner slings are made by hand to the original U.S. Government specifications and are correct for use on U.S. military rifles with 1 1/4" sling swivels.

Turner offers service rifle slings in highgrade oak tanned leather and in Biothane (a synthetic material - see Sinclair Service Rifle Sling for description). Hardware is parkerized steel and sling adjustment holes are oblong. Turner slings include two keepers.

Turner leather slings are available in 50" or 54" lengths in black or tan color. The Biothane sling is available in 54" length in black only. Many shooters prefer the 54" sling when shooting an AR-15 because the sling swivels are about 1 1/2" further apart than on an M1A. Shooters over 6' tall shooting an AR-15 should definitely order the 54" sling. Both lengths and colors are service rifle legal in CMP and NRA matches.

Sinclair AR Single Shot Follower

If you are using the longer, heavier bullets in your AR-15, then you need a Sinclair AR-15 Single Shot Follower. The longer, heavier bullets are normally loaded longer than magazine length. The Sinclair AR-15 Single Shot Follower positions the 223 Remington cartridge loaded with longer bullets correctly for smooth feeding into the chamber. Once a round is fired, the bolt retracts and locks behind the follower in the empty/loading position. No need to take your magazine apart! It takes only a few seconds to install the Sinclair Follower on top of the existing follower. It can be removed just as quickly. This follower addresses many of the problems with existing single shot followers on the market. The satin finished anodized aluminum wears better than the plastic followers and is easily noticeable in the magazine. Works perfectly in GI metal magazines and Brownell magazines. Will not work in any of the inexpensive, plastic magazines we tested.

Available in a "short" length for match rifle shooters and a "long" length for CMP/NRA Service rifle shooters (approved by the NRA and CMP). The Bob Sled replaces a normal magazine and has a built-in single shot follower designed to accommodate rounds longer than standard magazine length. Martin AR-15 Front Weight

Using a sling on an AR-15 applies torque to the barrel or the float tube. This torque is the reason most shooters use a float tube. The torque causes some movement of the float tube and can cause cuff style front weights to shift slightly in the hand guard. Shifting weights can put pressure on the gas tube, which can cause misalignment of the tube with the carrier key. The end result is accuracy deterioration. The Martin front weight installs in the bottom of the hand guard and eliminates the possibility of a torque shift causing pressure on the gas tube. Approximate total weight of the Martin front weight is 3 lbs., 6 ozs. To order the correct Martin front weight, measure the outside diameter of your float tube at the front end of the tube.

Sinclair AR-15 Bolt Vise

Made of anodized aluminum and stainless steel

Our bolt vise helps you disassemble your AR-15 bolt easily and without losing any parts. The main function of the tool is to compress the ejector so you can remove the spring pin easily. This enables you to release the pressure on the ejector slowly so the ejector and spring don't go flying off your workbench. The ejector and spring can be replaced if needed and the bolt reassembled easily. The tool cradles the bolt and holds it firmly in place while the screw assembly compresses the ejector. A hole in the vise allows the pin to drop free. The tool can also be used to hold the bolt securely while replacing gas rings and replacing the extractor.

NOTE We recommend you replace the ejector spring pin when reassembling if you have one available. A $\frac{1}{16}$ " punch is required to remove the pin.

This stainless steel match barrel from Krieger features a minimum-spec .223 chamber and hand-lapped, single-point cut rifling with a 1-7.7" twist rate that's ideal for 69-80 grain match bullets. Heavy "H-Bar"-style contour and 20" length make this barrel ideal for service rifle competition. Available in Pre- or Post-Ban configuration (with or without $\frac{1}{2}$ "-28 tpi muzzle threads). All critical dimensions have been ground between centers to be concentric to the bore, and the gas port has been precisely located in one of the grooves of the rifling. Krieger recommends the use of a standard Parkerized mil-spec bolt with this barrel; due to the minimum chamber, it may not headspace properly with chrome-plated or nickel-boron coated bolts. .750" O.D. at gas port. .093" dia. gas port. 3.5 lb. wt.

The JP Enhanced Bolt is made from SAE 9310 high-grade steel. This material makes for an extremely hard surface with a tough ductile core. The bolt is very resistant to structural failure and has a life expectancy that far exceeds the Mil-Spec 8620 type steel bolts. The 9310 steel is the same type used in Formula 1 race car transmissions so it is great for the high-load application of a bolt assembly and full-auto tests prove this. This new bolt comes with extractor, ejector, and gas rings installed. Accepts standard firing pin, cam pin and retainer pin.

JP Enterprises AR-15 Adjustable Trigger

Single-Stage AR-15 trigger features engagement and over-travel adjustments in combination with re-engineered sear geometry. Disconnector timing is correct, eliminating the "fire-on-release" or "doubling" problem, and the hammer camming effect found on the original parts is eliminated. Extremely short reset of the hammer greatly increases durability. This trigger system offers a complete absence of take-up and over-travel and extremely short reset to make this system the best possible compromise between precision and speed for action and tactical rifle competition. The JP Trigger system is compatible with your original hammer if it has not been altered, but the addition of the JP Speed Hammer will reduce lock time for a more refined trigger system. The trigger comes with detailed installation instructions, a 35 minute CD-ROM video on installation, set-up and adjustment, and yellow trigger and yellow hammer springs for a 3 to 3½ lb. trigger pull. Order additional spring sets for pull weights up to 4.5 pounds for CMP service rifle competition, or the JP Speed Hammer for faster lock time.

JPS3.5 Reduced-Power Spring Kit is for use with AR-15 rifles only. When used with standard AR-15 trigger parts gives 4.0-4.5 pound trigger pull range. When used with JP trigger parts gives 3-3.5 lb. pull range. Can be used for competition or recreation. Hammer and trigger springs are yellow. Will not work with AR-style .308 rifles.

JPS4.0 Spring Kit gives a 4 to 4½ lb. pull (gray hammer spring and yellow trigger spring) for law enforcement duty or when using ammunition with low sensitivity primers. Suitable for use in many AR-308 setups.

JPS4.5 Spring Kit gives a 4½ lb. pull (gray hammer spring and gray trigger spring) for CMP, Service Rifle Competition.

Laserlyte Laser Training System

The Laser Training System from Laserlyte offers a revolutionary way to train without going to the range or burning up ammo. Simply insert the laser unit into the chamber like an ordinary cartridge. When you pull the trigger, a firing-pin activated switch turns on a bright red laser dot to indicate the "bullet" impact point. Activates for 100 milliseconds each time the firing pin strikes. The housing is rimless, so the LTS won't be extracted and ejected when you rack the slide—perfect for tap/rack/bang malfunction drills. The soft brass housing is similar in size to an actual cartridge and is fitted with two rubber O-rings to prevent damage to the chamber. Runs on three, readily available Type 377 button-cell batteries (included) that are good for approximately 3,000 shots.

Sinclair Bullet Drop Rods

Sinclair Bullet Drop Rods are designed to remove bullets that are lightly stuck in the throat/rifling. The drop rods are dropped down the barrel from the muzzle end with the rifle standing upright. Sinclair Bullet Drop Rods are not designed to dislodge or knock out loaded (live) rounds. These are great to keep in your range box to use when a cleaning rod is not available. The Bullet Drop Rods can also be used to remove bullets used to determine seating depth with a Hornady or Sinclair Seating Depth Tool.

Sinclair Drop Rods are brass and they will not harm stainless or chrome moly barrels. Each set includes two rods - a 3/16" diameter rod for 20 caliber through 25 caliber bores, and a 1/4" diameter rod for 6.5mm through 416 caliber bores.

These Swedish made hearing protectors are without a doubt the finest electronic muffs we have ever used. They are extremely comfortable, simple to operate, and produce a far superior sound quality. These muffs operate on two AAA alkaline batteries (included) with a stated battery life of 600 hours and automatic battery save function. Electronics are all digital, and the microphones on each side are moisture protected and do not stick out from the muff profile. Easy three button control for on-off, higher or lower volume. Automatically switches off after four hours to save battery power. These muffs have a very low profile design, so they should not interfere with rifle stocks. There is also an auxiliary input port and a supplied cord for connecting an external audio source. If you enjoy using high quality equipment, or have not been completely happy with other electronic hearing protectors you have tried, we highly recommend this MSA unit. Wind Meters

Today's electronic windmeters are an extremely useful tool for the active rifle shooter whether you are hunting, competing, or tuning up a rifle. The electronic meters we carry are compact, accurate, and reliable and many go well beyond being a simple windmeter.

We carry several wind/weather meter models from Kestrel and WindMate. These are extremely well-made instruments and are incredibly accurate over their full range of values - invaluable to the competitive shooter and varmint hunter.

WindMate Wind Meters

Portable WindMate® wind meters have been reviewed by experts in the field and have won various industry awards. Each unit is only 5 1/2" long when closed, and weighs just over 3 ounces - perfect for taking to the field, or adding to that already-stuffed range bag. The unique, jackknife-style case allows more precise wind speed readings than other meters, because your hand is distant from the wind impeller, allowing undisturbed air flow measurement. It then folds to protect the unit when not in use. WindMate meters come with a wind vane to ensure accurate measurement on the wind axis. All units can be tripod mounted and will accommodate the Model SM-WT wind tunnel accessory for more precise readings as a stationary sensor or for long-range shooting. The 200, 300, and 350 models feature a digital, USA-made fluxgate compass which allows wind direction, cross/head/tail wind calculations, and more, all on an easy-to-read LCD display. All WM-series meters use the readily available, CR-2032 lithium battery, included with each meter, which provides approximately 400-hours of operation. WindMate wind meters meet NIST calibration standards, are wind speed accuracy tested to better than +/- 3%, and have a 2-year warranty.

WM-100: WindMate Basic Windmeter

If you just need wind speed, this is the instrument for you! The WM-100 has Swiss-made impeller components, is water resistant, shockproof and floats. Measures wind speeds from 0.8 – 89 MPH with reading in tenths. Will display wind measurements in Knots, MPH, KM/H, Ft./Min., M/sec, Beaufort speed ranges from 1-12, current and maximum wind speeds and average wind speed. Comes with an adjustable lanyard. The case is water resistant, shockproof, and the jackknife design allows for the most accurate measurements, as your hand's heat and moisture do not interfere with any sensors.

WM-200: WindMate With Wind Direction and Backlight

Unlike traditional compasses, the WM-200 reads when held vertically and can be used for taking bearings. All of the features of the WM100, but temperature and wind chill are also included to make this a comprehensive unit for sailors, and shooters, among others. The unit is very simple to operate. The Mode button toggles you through each of the six features. Units can be changed by pushing a second button, while a third button operates settings for compass calibration. Using a traditional compass, you can check the accuracy of the WindMate 200 digital compass. If it needs to be recalibrated, the process is pretty easy: You just enter the recalibration from the compass window, rotate the WindMate 200 twice at about 15 second intervals, and press the SET button again to finish. An error will be indicated if it was done incorrectly. Compass is accurate to +/- 2°. Wind chill accuracy is +/- 1.8°F.

It also includes Accuweather.com's patented Comfort Index, which is the effect of temp, wind speed, relative humidity & sun intensity on the human body and is superior to Heat Index. Unlike traditional compasses, the USA-made fluxgate compass in the WM-300 reads when held vertically and can be used for taking bearings. These features make the WM-300 the perfect tool for professionals, hobbyists and recreational users.

This prize-winning, comprehensive weather monitor gives full environmental data specific to your location, and includes a 48-hr history for every function, hour-by-hour, and in a bar graph. In addition to wind speed/direction, temperature, barometric pressure, altitude, and humidity, the unit provides wind chill, wet bulb, dew point, Delta T & density altitude readings. The WM-350 gives an accurate weather forecast, and an audio storm alarm alerts you to weather changes, even if the unit is off. This instrument incorporates the exclusive, Accuweather.com's patented Comfort Index, which is the effect of temperature, relative humidity, wind speed and sun intensity on the human body. Kestrel 4500NV Horus

The 4500NV Horus adds to Kestrel's popular, flagship Model 4500 weather meter the Horus ATrag Ballistics software (civilian version) and night-vision-friendly readout – in a compact, easy-to-use hand-held unit. Eliminates the need to run your ballistics program on a laptop because it contains all of the necessary data and solutions built into one device to minimize user workload and distraction. Three-line multi-function display can be set to read out in English, French, German, Spanish, or Italian. Backlight of the display incorporates an optical filter that reduces overall brightness and minimizes blue and green spectrum light to help preserve night vision, for optimal performance in low light. Weather Functions: heading (true & magnetic), wind direction, crosswind/headwind/tailwind, altitude, barometric pressure and pressure trend, wet bulb temperature, relative humidity, heat stress index, dewpoint, density altitude, wind chill, air/water/snow temperature in Fahrenheit or Centigrade, and current/average/maximum air velocity. Hawkeye Borescopes are used by an increasing number of shooters to check their barrels for erosion and fouling problems. The Hawkeye Borescopes have been recently upgraded with even better optics and improved mirror technology to provide a sharper, more clear picture of the rifle bore. Both "Shooter's Edition" kits include a 17" borescope with a focusing eyepiece for viewing straight down the bore, a mirror adapter for looking 90° into the side wall of the barrel, a light source, and hard storage case. The "Shooter's Edition - Plus" kit includes an angled eyepiece so you don't have to look straight into the borescope. Angled eyepiece is also available separately for those who already have a Hawkeye Borescope. These models will work on 22 caliber bores and larger.

Sinclair Practice Targets

This 100 yard practice target will save a lot of trips from the bench to the target frame. Our 10" x 13" target has 20 official size 100 yard group benchrest targets without the outer two rings. Competitive benchrest shooters use this kind of target on practice days before big matches since they can only go down range when the firing line is shut down and safe. The target is printed on good target stock, so holes form as they do in competition. The black aiming square is included for practice in heavy mirage. Good for 17 to 30 caliber rifles for practice and load testing.

Birchwood Casey Shoot-N-C Targets

These revolutionary self-adhesive targets explode in color upon impact to provide instant feedback on where your shot hits. This high visibility impact indicator is great for shooters using open sights or low powered scopes. We use them at 300 yards during practice, as smaller caliber bullet holes are sometimes hard to see even through the spotting scope. With these targets, even .22 caliber holes are sharp and easy to see. Upon bullet impact a bright yellow ring forms around the bullet hole, providing excellent visibility. Each target can be pasted over and re-used at least two or three times.

All Shoot-N-C Targets provide a lot of shooting at an excellent value. Great for any type of practice or just for fun. Excellent for informal competition between friends as each shot shows up clearly.
